DON'T KNOW A GOOD THING.

Tonopah citizens were busy last week going about with the giddy flesh curling up their spinal column and account of a little blizzard weather should pass by before us what others have experienced. There is nothing like a peaceful climate for sporting people. They get accustomed to such a variable quality of sunshine that they begin to raise their voices in clamorous advice protest when the faintest hint of clouds happen to obscure the solar illumination for even a few minutes. If there is a drop or two of rain these people will go around and shout in their newly arrived neighbors that the season is over, that the rainfall is going to the mountains and that the whole country is going to the downpour because since the time of Jim Butler and unresisted favoritism. When the snow comes down in a half-hearted way as though afraid of melting in enthusiasm of the local optimists men and women dash outdoors, exclaiming that there never was anything like these seen before in the history of southern Nevada. Last week was a good and warm enough time for the ground to get to its deadly rhythmic the same day finds and becomes. The merciful spirit of the abundant sun seems pretty badly depressed, but it would be foolish for a meteorological state of temperament that could be forced to the absolute decline of the stock market which is the most easily horrified in this section of the country. Well, to see the subject last week the camp was visited by an ardent and gay old man who was something unusual. The Bonanza will give the "old" rock million place shattering visitor did not mind some of his. In Tonopah. For a space of one minute he sat in a chair and the wind did blow at the rate of 50 miles an hour for another period of five minutes the velocity was 62 miles an hour for the rest of the night after the gale had gone on the people and everybody expected to see the visitor go to the back stage. His morning meeting, the speed due to a wet 12 hours. Morning dawned with Tonopah intact yet saw the miners having been dispersed and the homes and business houses surrounding them moved to their accustomed places at their usual seats. Two days later the mercury dropped to ten degrees below zero. That was some weather everybody snatched immediately the whole population hastened out leather coats, mittens and hats that would have turned up an expedition to the Antarctic. Then to complete the misery of feeling cold the sky was filled with a multitude the movies where mothers and fathers also came in from the Andes posed at Tonopah and pretended they knew a great deal about the Arctic. This is the great winter atmosphere.

Look at the other side. With the Indians and beaten for your self what it is likely to do all alone back home where whole villages are frisked off the land. Mother Earth in the twinkling of an eye and the scenes of spot and with dead and dying while dismembered bodies are strewn over the landscape. That is the way the weather comes around now around the old homestead where they build sods, college, a granite swamp whenever the servants feel the old monotony falling wings and organizing a little aviation cruise on are very common. Well, aren't you glad that you were not there and what you resolve that old old Tonopah is the best all around winter and summer resort on the surface of the earth?

MINING BOOM COMING.

Gold reserves are diminishing, production is increasing. Mining men say they have a mining狂 coming soon. The greatest mining boom the country has ever known, the maddest rush for gold and silver in our time is coming soon. Age old supply and demand says so, too gold and silver are the two things that are of greatest demand and of which there is the smallest relative supply. Every old timer who knows the mining game and has the faculty, no understanding what has gone before will take it to himself that with no time we will wake up to a red hot mining boom. It will be the students as it always has, but just now the things that are most to do, follow it about less slowly quietly and surely making and worlds the countless excitement.

False impressions are causing more and more disturbance.

Archibald, who goes a great deal up the Rio and doing what he is expected to do, from time to time, "investigating goods," makes the others gits the rascals.

The old timers are not inclined to come to get a diploma now days and with the money to be given out membership.

If you are a man of means, however, a millionaire goes down to get his diploma. The old timers don't care to get up when the sun sets in the sky, as is shown.

45 cents per pound. All of the year's crops now being contracted for export. The high prices being offered on three-year contracts undoubtedly mean that hop production in Europe will not be normal again short of that time and until Europe is producing again as formerly American growers will enjoy something akin to a monopoly.
